

QNIS Conference 16th March 2017 Grand Central Hotel Glasgow

Conversations that change lives and build communities

08.30	Coffee and registration
09.00	Welcome
09.05	Introduction	Clare Cable Chief Executive and Nurse Director
09.15	Conversations that change lives Person centred care in practice	David Reilly The Healing Shift Enquiry
10.00	Conversations which build communities Curating curiosity and surprise in human encounters	Padraig Ó Tuama Leader, Corrymeela Community
10.40	Coffee & exhibition
11.10	Workshops (further details on page 2): The Asylum Monologues Neighbourhood integrated care Funding your change - grant application workshop Parish Nursing Struggling Silently: The Hidden Problem of Low Health Literacy	Ice and Fire Theatre company and the NHS GGC Asylum Health Bridging Team Stephen Pennington and Pat Tyrrell Hilda Campbell and Catriona Kennedy Ros Moore Phyllis Easton and Lindsey Murphy
12.30	Lunch
13.30	Creating a social movement	Helen Bevan Chief Transformation Officer, NHS England
14.10	A Vision for Care in Scotland that puts communities at the centre	Thomas Monaghan Improvement Advisor Healthcare Improvement Scotland
14.40	Being a Catalyst for Change	Lesley Riddoch Freelance journalist
15.10	Summary & close

The Asylum Monologues

The Fire and Ice Theatre Company with NHS GGC Asylum Health Bridging Team

The first script created for the Actors for Human Rights project, Asylum Monologues is a first-hand account of the UK's asylum system in the words of people who have experienced it. The Ice and Fire Theatre company will present stories from Scotland followed by a discussion about how community nurses can support those arriving here.

Neighbourhood Integrated Care

Stephen Pennington, Chief Executive, Highland Home Carers and Pat Tyrrell, Deputy Director of Nursing, NHS Highland

Working between agencies to provide joined up care within a community is an immense challenge. Come and hear from those who are doing leading the field and hear about approaches that might help you as you seek to work together to support more people living with health challenges in their own homes.

Parish Nursing

Ros Moore, Chief Executive, Parish Nursing Ministries UK

Parish Nursing is all about supporting people and communities towards whole person healthcare. Nurses work with a local church of any denomination. Parish nurses work with people of all ages and backgrounds, those with any faith or none; whether it's simply giving moral support during a medical crisis, giving general health advice or education for health, or "signposting" people to other support or medical services. Come and hear from some of Scotland's Parish Nurses and consider developing a similar role in your area.

Funding Your Change - Grant Application Workshop

Hilda Campbell, Chief Executive, COPE Scotland and Catriona Kennedy, QNIS Chair of Community Nursing, Robert Gordon University

Do you ever think "if only I had a wee bit of money I have a great idea I would love to try out", but then when you look at an application form your mind goes blank? Well, this workshop maybe for you. The aim of the workshop is to give some hints and tips on making funding applications which may increase your chances of making that really great idea a reality.

Struggling Silently: The Hidden Problem of Low Health Literacy

Phyllis Easton, Health Intelligence Manager, NHS Tayside and Lindsey Murphy, NHS Education for Scotland

The problem of low health literacy affects a significant proportion of the population, for example, in a survey across eight European countries, 47% were considered to have inadequate health literacy – almost half the population. Research evidence also shows that people who struggle to understand what they are being told often feel too embarrassed or fearful of stigma to disclose their lack of understanding. So how important is health literacy? How can we tell who needs help? And what can we do to help those who need extra support? Come and find out what you can do to improve health literacy among the people you have contact with.