2. IN SUPPORT OF YOUR APPLICATION

The excellence profile in the guidance document describes Queen's Nursing. Please tell us four short stories about how you practice in this way already.

Please remember this is not a job application, we are not looking for a list of achievements, rather your ability to reflect and describe the impact of your skills and behaviours on others.

Each statement begins with the question HOW?

9. This question asks you to tell us how you have made a difference (350-500 words)

Please include in your answer:

How you have changed how things are currently done

How you are making things better for individuals, families and communities

How you are helping others to make a significant impact

10. This question asks you to tell us how have you demonstrated your tenacity and resilience (350-500 words)

Please include in your answer:

How you find your way across boundaries, around obstacles, through bureaucracy

How you have successfully challenged attitudes

How you find new doors to open each time one closes

How you are prepared for continuous change, development and transformation

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for the user to write their answer to the question. The box is currently blank.

11. This question asks you to tell us how you have brought people with you (350-500 words)

Please include in your answer:

How you are using your enthusiasm and persuasive nature

How you are creating a ground swell of support and getting others to commit and get things done

How you are staying connected with important others

How working with crisis is a development opportunity

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for the user to write their answer to the question. The box is currently blank.

12. This question asks you how you demonstrate your ability to reflect (350-500 words)

Please include in your answer:

How you ensure you are listening deeply, seeking to understand what really matters

How you are approaching life reflectively, always learning

how you are quick to attribute success to others and not seek credit

how you show kindness for yourself and others

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for the student to write their reflective response. The box occupies the majority of the page below the instructions.

3. Your vision

13. WHAT IS YOUR VISION for the role of Queen's Nurses in Scotland's communities and why would you like to be selected for this year's cohort?

Do you have a vision of what the best you can be looks like and feels like and the changes you would like to see in the community you work with? (350-500 words)

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for the user to write their response to the question. The box is currently blank.

4. Your issue for development

Please read the guidance document and tell us about the issue you have agreed with your sponsor which you will develop over the course of this programme. Please set out the nature of the issue or community need you wish to address, who will be involved, how you plan to engage those affected and what you hope might be achieved, whilst recognising that the emphasis is on co-production so that plans will emerge as you listen to the views of others.

14. Please state briefly the issue you have agreed with your sponsor which you will develop over the course of this programme (100-200 words)

15. Tell us who will be involved and how you plan to engage those affected (200-300 words)

16. Tell us what you hope might be achieved, recognising that the emphasis is on co-production and plans may emerge as you listen 200-300 words

17. Tell us why this issue matters to you 200-300 words

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for the user to write their response to the question above. The box is currently blank.
